EIGHT PAGES.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1904.

THE betting in New York is 6 to 1 on Roosevelt.

THE Democrats are claiming Illinois by a plurality of 35,000.

JUDGE PARKER has at last got his mouth open and his foot in it.

THE leading daily papers of the country are conceding Roosevelt's election.

BRECKENRIDGE county, the Republicans say, will give Roosevelt 250 majority over Parker.

BETTER prices for pig in Pittsburg. Joe Green Anderson says he would like to ship 'em a lot.

THERE is not a dollar of campaign fund in this county on either side, thank the Lord. We'll have a decent election.

THE men who are really suffering in this campaign are the manufacturers of campaign buttons, badges, torches, etc.

WATSON says Roosevelt is straddling nothing but the war horse and Parker is straddling everything but the war horse.

THE Colorado election law requires that voting booths shall be built so as to expose the voter's legs to the knees. Women vote in Colorado.

DON'T forget the stock law. And don't forget how to cast your ballot so it will count. The stock law ought to carry. It is a good law for everybody.

OUR guessing contest closes at midnight, Nov. 7. Get in your guess and your dollar before that time. It doesn't cost you a cent to guess and you might strike a fortune.

THERE is plenty of hot campaign stuff floating around up north where the fight is fierce and the political batteries are all on fire. They tell it on Mr. Roosevelt that when he was a boy he threw hot pennies to monkeys and that when Judge Parker was fourteen years old he once placed a wad of chewing gum on the button of an electric door bell, thereby causing the doorbell to ring incessantly until the gum was removed, and for these reasons neither of the gentlemen is fit to be president. They tell it on Senator Knox, who is cutting a big figure in the campaign, that when he was a boy at school he took great umbrage at a studious youth who insisted on wearing long hair and an air of abstraction; that Knox, with the aid of two accomplices, did wilfully seek out the aforesaid youth and cut said hair close to the scalp thereby causing the studious youth much anguish of soul, and loss to the world of unuttered truths, and this unfits Mr. Knox for the position of senator. They say again, that Mr. Parker is not fit to be president, because, forsooth, he rides a docked-tailed horse. And that President Roosevelt is more fit because he is a man of war instead of peace. Men are taken at their word by their acts, which are true keys of character, and President Roosevelt, soldier and true sportsman though he is, loves animals and would never do an unkind thing to them. Mr. Fairbanks, the candidate for vice-president on the Republican ticket, who was said to be cold, reserved and unapproachable by the masses, is proving to be one of the greatest and most successful campaigners in the field. It is said of him now that he can shake the hands of more people and get closer to them than Tom Taggart ever did. He not only uses one hand but both after his speech at going through the mob shaking right and left. They say that he really enjoys it, too. That he likes to get close to the people and that he has learned to feel that the crowds are interested in him and that both have a common interest in the subjects discussed. It does him good, therefore, to be able to meet and greet various individuals. He is making friends for the Republican ticket everywhere. They tell on Tom Watson, the Populist candidate for president, that while he was in New York he didn't sleep in his undershirt, but followed the plutocratic practice of wearing pajamas. And Debs has killed his chances, for he chews non-union fine-cut.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by Short & Haynes.

BIG OAK LOG.

It required ten horses to haul a big white oak log which was brought to town last week, by T. W. Sanders, to be shipped to Evansville. The log measured out 1,510 feet, was 40 inches in diameter at the small end and 54 inches at the large end. It belonged to the timber firm of Cooper & Williams, and was cut on a tract of land near Tar Springs. One of the finest lots of oak timber ever cut in the county was hauled to town this year from this tract of land, many logs out of several hundred averaging a thousand feet by measure.

PARKER PREDICTS VICTORY.

Esopus, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Parker today made his first public prediction as to the outcome of the election. In a speech to a delegation composed largely of farmers from Orange and Rockland counties, New York, he interpolated the following: "I want to assure you that if we work hard enough, if we each do our part, we can win this fight. I did not feel like saying so until lately, but we are growing so rapidly that if our people do their best I do believe the victory to be ours."

HANCOCK BUYER.

The Hancock Clarion says that G. R. ("Rabbit") Nave, of near Owensboro, has rented the big Hancock tobacco warehouse in Hawesville, and will buy all the available tobacco in Hancock county as soon as the season opens. The announcement of Mr. Nave's coming to Hawesville is good news to the farmers of Hancock county, as there was not a big buyer in Hawesville last year and the larger part of the county's crop was marketed in Cloverport and Owensboro, there by incurring for them much trouble and expense.

Neglect

To have a good remedy in the house for Burns, Cuts and Bruises often causes serious results. Paracamp is the best thing you can have. It relieves pain instantly and cures quickly without leaving ugly scars. It does this because it heals from the bottom of the wound, and is therefore better than the old-fashioned Salves and Ointments. It absolutely prevents blood-poisoning; so keep a bottle in your home.

Mr. Place bets his new gold mill and all the company's mines and property, including the mercantile house, valued at $600,000, on Roosevelt, against the Hughes and Shannon mine property, also valued at $600,000, on Parker.

The Cannelton Telephone is now at six-column quarto sheet and is a great improvement over the old paper, which was printed on a Vaughn Ideal press.
